

TRAINING IN PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCTING SECURITY LOGISTIC AUDITS

The subject matter associated with the logistic security is at present one of the crucial matter for functioning of all kinds of enterprises, irrespective of industry and area of their action. Providing with the adequate level of security by the proper implementation and bearing appropriate procedures is a basic aim of the security management system of the supply chain. Preparing for the security audit one should answer oneself question, whether the company policy taken on, cells and procedures effectively are implemented and whether the management system is meeting all norms put for him?

Applying training principles of auditing magazines, logistic objects and other locations organised by SASMA EUROPE is being addressed above all for the managing staff, managers of forwarding-logistic individuals, carriers and employees of departments of the transport and the logistics.

Introducing the information to concerning principles of auditing magazines is a purpose of the training of both logistic sorting plants , the storages and storing agreeable charges with the widely accepted methodology of the security and based on high standards ruling on the market. While training the most important standards and logistic security rules which requirements constitute for providing with the security of supply, in it are discussed of the transport, the trans-shipment and storing. The training program includes also a subject matter of securities and the monitored access into magazines and offices, determining procedures of the logistic security concerning logistic objects and the transport including the specificity given from the point of view of security.

Meeting these requirements and implementing procedures recommended by us are guaranteeing our Customers the professional service of recipients of their services in compliance with highest, international security standards.

The theoretical part moving closer principles of auditing logistic magazines, discussion and practical tips concerning principles of the security audit cause that trainings proposed by us are consistent with recommendations of recognised organisations and associations dealing with exactly these issues.

We are preparing our trainings wanting to deliver the knowledge and action letting the ability improving efficiency to our Customers in the industry of the security, improving the quality of provided services and hence increasing satisfaction. They are to enable the development of individual qualifications and confirming them by getting signed certificates by SASMA EUROPE which all participants of the training receive also.

Hoping that our offer will meet from you with interesting warmly we are inviting to use it guaranteeing satisfaction and the high of conducted classes.

In case of questions we ask sides for pointing them to the following mail address: security@sas-ma.org.